Why we exist: our mission

Empowering students to lead productive lives.

What we stand for: our values

- Learning is maximized when we provide a safe and orderly environment.
- Use data to learn from the past, continue to improve and to direct future innovation
- Families and community are vital and active partners.
- Educators design instruction to engage and inspire all learners.
- All students are unique and valued.
- All students will seek growth in academic and personal skills.
- All students will be contributing members of society.

Where we are heading: our vision

Future Ready: We prepare for a rapidly changing world by empowering all students to pursue the best version of themselves.

KUNA JT. SCHOOL DISTRICT CONTINUOUS IMPROVEMENT PLAN (2023-2024)

In compliance with Section 33-320, Idaho Code

Instructions: Per statute, please describe how your school district or charter school considered input from the community in developing or revising your Continuous Improvement Plan.

Community Involvement in Plan Development - REQUIRED

Our original strategic planning design team met over the course of two years to develop our continuous improvement plan (which we call our strategic plan). This team was composed of KSD employees, community and business leaders as well as parents and students from the Supt. Advisory Council.

After the launch of the plan in 2021, we established two critical teams to ensure that the outcomes we have established for students and our organization are reached: 1) Guiding Coalition and 2) Work Groups. The Guiding Coalition is a team that brings expertise, energy and perspectives across a variety of areas to help us review results (data) and make recommendations on improvements and/or changes that are needed in order to best achieve the goals outlined in the plan. The Work Groups are responsible for leading and implementing the work across the school district. Each pillar in our strategic plan also has a work team that is primarily composed of district personnel and noted in the plan linked below. Additionally, the Supt. Advisory Council provides input on our ideas and provides us with input on how we can continue to improve outcomes.
